[COMMUNICATED. NIGHT SCHOOLS?

The honorable mayor in his letter to he council recommends night schools for those children of our city who are compelled to work during the day school hours. Now, as a matter of fact, do we need progress at this par-ticular point at present? Do we not sadly need "«xpansion" in other and more serious parts, long ere our proficient school and finance managers see fit to make this an institution? The very best authorities tell us that no teacher can possibly do proper work with an over-crowded class room. We refer you to Page, Spencer and White, who decide that twenty pupils form a school just large enough for one teach-et; any less than this being too small. and any more being too large. We painfully observe that some of our teachers have not twenty, but nearer three times that number. This is posi-ively an outrage. No school can possibly be conducted to any comparative advantage to its individual pupils under such a regime. Your teachers are overworked; your children not receiving the proper amount of individual training lose interest. We hope that you will expend much money and talent to adjust these matters in the next talent to adjust these matters in the near future. It is the prevailing spirit nowa-days to get all we can for the money regardless of quality. Don't be deceived into thinking that this overplus of work on our teachers is any saving, children than she can teach she doesn', teach them, that's all. So dont for

But let us for a moment consider who will reap the benefit Every child has a right to enter school at 7 years of age. No children in oucity work to maintain themselves until 2 years of age. Seven from twelve leaves five. Every child in our city has a positive chance of five years of has a positive chance of five years of schooling at his most impressionable age and regardless of means Suppositive parents don't send their children at this age. Then let us go out and "compet them to come." We need this years before we need high schools. Those who clamor for night schools are instanced as these who did not attention. fathers lived on Those who clamor for night schools are just such as these, who did not attend you'll enjor the same delicing Bread, Bolls, Cakes and P'es they had in "colonial times."

Those who clamor for night schools are just such as these, who did not attend from the age of 7 to 12 We know them and sadly hint that they will not loo now; no, not even a night ses in, which all the all prements, would tempt with all its allurements, would tempt > lu brief, our honorable Mayor is right and we are with him, for he is an "expansionist." But let us expand our buildings, expand our corps of efficient teachers, and, yes, expand to night ses sions, too. But let this come last. YATES.

TO BE PENSIONED.

As heretofore stated it has been officially announced that the plan of pensioning aged employes by the Pennsylvania railroad will be put into flect on January 1, 1900.

There will be 950 employes retired and pensioned on that date. Thereafer all officers and employes not yet seventy years of rge will be retired and pensioned on the first day of the month following their attainment of President Cassatt has issued a circular containing the details and terms of the plau. It provides for the retirement on January 1, 1900 of all employes of the Pennsylvania railroad system east of Pittsburg and Erie who have attained the age of seventy years, and the payment to such amployes of a pansion equal to to such employes of a pension equal to 1 per cent, for each year of continuous service of the average salary for the last ten years. It also provides for the retirement of all officers and employes between the ages of sixty-five and sixty-nine years who, having seen thirty years in the s-rvice of the company, are physically disqualified, and the payment to them of a pen-ton computed on the same basis. These pensions will be payable basis. These pensions will be payable at the same rate during the lives of the pensioners, provided the total amount for pensions shall not exceed the sum of $300,000 per annum. When the total expenditures for pensions exceed the above same a readjustment of the the above sum a readjustment of the pension roll on the basis of a lower percentage will be made to bring the amount within the maximum limit.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarse ness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Rem-edy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by all
